

In & Around Horse Country, December 2012/January 2013

Foxhunting Photographer Publishes First Novel

The foxhunting photography of Karen Myers is frequently seen on the pages of In & Around Horse Country. Now our readers can enjoy Karen's words as well as her images. Her first novel, To Carry the Horn, has just been published. Karen and her husband David Zincavage live in the Virginia Piedmont and follow the activities of the Blue Ridge Hunt, Old Dominion Hounds, Ashland Bassets, and Wolver Beagles. She has applied her knowledge of hunting with hounds to the tale of Virginia foxhunter George Talbot Traherne, who unexpectedly finds himself in the fae otherworld, drafted to lead the Wild Hunt.

A blend of hunting and fantasy fiction, and the first entry in The Hounds of Annwn series, To Carry the Horn takes the reader into a world of magic and ancient rivalries where hunting with hounds plays a significant role in life and law. Well-written and finely detailed, this book provides an excellent opportunity for some enjoyable hours of escapism, particularly when read on a chilly winter evening before a cozy fire.

To Carry the Horn is available in both ebook and trade paperback format. To order your copy, visit www.perkunaspress.com. And look for the next installment in the series, The Ways of Winter, scheduled for release next spring.